Menning, hreyfing og náttúra

Á höfuðborgarsvæðinu eru átta sveitarfélög: Reykjavík, Kópavogur, Hafnarfjörður, Garðabær, Seltjarnarnes, Mosfellsbær, Álftanes og Kjósarhreppur. Þótt þau myndi eina heild hefur hvert þeirra sín séreinkenni og atvinnulíf er fjölbreytt. Sjávarútvegur, iðnaður, verslun, viðskipti og þjónusta hafa ávallt skipt miklu máli en síðasta aldarfjórðunginn hefur margháttaður þekkingariðnaður og ferðaþjónusta fengið sífellt meira vægi. Uppbyggingin hefur verið ör, borgin og bæirnir hafa stækkað mikið. Samt er stutt í fallega, villta náttúru þar sem leita má kyrrðar, hreyfingar og endurnæringar á öllum árstímum. Á sumrin klífa menn fjöll, ganga, synda eða leika golf svo fátt eitt sé nefnt. Á veturnum taka skíðin og aðrar vetraríþróttir við. Menningin blómstrar, hvarvetna eru í boði tónleikar, sýningar, margvíslegar uppákomur og söfn af ýmsu tagi bjóða gesti velkomna. Úrvalið er mest í höfuðborginni en öll státa sveitarfélögin af einstökum menningarperlum sem vert er að veita nánari athygli með heimsókn. Veitingahús bjóða girnilegar krásir og gisting er í boði eftir smekk hvers og eins.

Culture, Health and Nature

Eight municipalities make up the capital city area: Reykjavík, Kópavogur, Hafnarfjörður, Garðabær, Seltjarnarnes, Mosfellsbær, and the districts of Álftanes and Kjós. Though belonging to one area, they all have distinct characteristics. In the quite varied commercial sector, a many-faceted knowledge industry and tourism have, in the last twenty-five years, joined the continuing mainstays of the fishery, services, manufacturing and trade sectors. Despite rapid urban growth, beautiful wild nature is always nearby, offering opportunities for peace, exercise and refreshment in every season. During summer, people climb mountains, walk, swim or golf, while in the winter they also enjoy skiing and other wintertime sports. Concerts, exhibitions, varying events and an assortment of museums are part of the blossoming culture that awaits every visitor. Even if the selection of entertainment is widest in the capital city itself, each of the municipalities boasts of unique cultural attractions worthy of the traveller's attention. A multitude of restaurants offer appetising dishes, and the range of accommodation will suit the desires of anyone.

Hafnarfjarðarhöfn

Smáralind

Stutt er í lystisemdir borgarinnar og ósnortna náttúru. Sumir kjósa að þræða götur miðbæjanna, aðrir vilja ganga þar sem er kyrrð og gróður. Heiðmörk, Elliðaárdalur, Krýsuvík og Gróttá eru útivistarperlur. Víða eru gönguleiðir þaðan sem njóta má útsýnis til sveitar og sjávar. Tilvalið er að bregða sér á hestbak. Hvernig sem viðrar má hafa ánægju af úti- vist á hinum sérstæða og harðgerða íslenska hesti. Annað dýr í óspilltri náttúrunni sem vekur áhuga er hvalurinn sem buslar og blæs í blágrænum sjónum. Við förum með þig í bátsferð til að skoða þessi stórkostlegu dýr. Veitingastaðir bjóða þér innlenda og erlenda rétti. Hráefnið er þó alltaf íslenskt, ferskt og ómengað. Næturlífið er fjörukt og hefur vakið athygli. Komdu og kíktu við, þú gleymir því aldrei.

◀ Afþreying

Recreation ▶

Both the pleasures of the city and unspoiled nature lie close at hand. While some choose strolls through central city streets, others long for walks through calm surroundings and vegetation. Among the true treasures of nature are Heiðmörk, Elliðaárdalur, Krýsuvík and Gróttá, and trails throughout the city and its environs provide the walker with views over landscape and the sea. A top option is riding horses; no matter what the weather, being outside on the sturdy, very special Icelandic horse brings satisfaction to the rider. Another animal that attracts notice in pristine nature is the whale, splashing and blowing in the blue-green sea. Try taking a boat trip with us to watch these magnificent animals. At restaurants, you will have a choice of Icelandic and foreign specialities, whose raw materials are generally Icelandic, fresh and unpolluted. The area's vibrant night life has captured international attention, so come and try it out – for an experience you will always remember.

Hvaleyrvöllur

Heilsutengd ferðapjónusta ▼

Allir vilja halda góðri heilsu og lifa gleðiríku lífi. Íslendingar eru ein langlífasta þjóð í heimi. Fátt er betra en hreyfing. Hjá okkur eru óteljandi möguleikar, t.d. sund, golf og hlaup. Á höfuðborgarsvæðinu eru alls 15 sundlaugar með heitu, tæru vatni sem kemur ómengað úr iðrum jarðar. Landsmenn og fjöldi ferðamanna nýtir sér þennan möguleika til hollrar hreyfingar og slappar svo af á eftir í gufubaði. Aðrir hafa meiri áhuga á golfi. Nokkur mót eru haldin á sumrin og sérstæðast þeirra er mót sem haldið er í miðnætursólinni í júní. Skokk og hlaup hafa átt vaxandi vinsældum að fagna og á hverju ári er haldið Reykjavíkumaraþon með innlendum og erlendum þátttakendum. Hvort sem þú keppir eða horfir á má hafa gaman af þessu hlaupi. Á Seltjarnarnesi er aðstaða til sjóbaða.

Health Tourism ▼

Everyone wants to stay healthy and lead a happy life, and Icelanders are one of the longest-lived nations in the world. Hardly anything benefits a person more than exercise, taking advantage of the countless options around the capital, such as swimming, golf and jogging. With their warm, pure water coming unpolluted from underground, a total of fifteen local swimming pools give both Icelanders and numerous foreign visitors the opportunity of healthy exercise, followed by relaxation in a steam bath. For others who are more interested in golf, several competitions are held each summer, of which the most unique is scheduled upon the midnight sun in June. Jogging and running have enjoyed ever-increasing popularity. Every year, the Reykjavík Marathon has Icelandic as well as foreign participants; not only the runners but also the spectators have great fun. Another option is the facilities for those bathing in the sea at Seltjarnarnes.

Viðburðir

Það er margt að gerast. Allir geta fundið eitthvað við sitt hæfi allt árið. Af öllum þeim fjölda viðburða sem um er að ræða má nefna Ferðalang á sumardaginn fyrsta þar sem fólk er hvatt til að kynna sér ferðatengda afþreyingu á heimaslóð, Listahátíð í Reykjavík í maí, Hátíð hafsins í júníbyrjun og Menningarnótt í ágúst. Á Listahátíð koma fram bæði innlendir listamenn og erlendir gestir frá öllum heimshornum. Hafnfirðingar efna til lista- og menningardaga á Björtum júnídögum, Seltirningar á Björtum júnínóttum og í maí eru Kópavogsdagar. Á aðventu er gaman að kíkja inn í Jólaborpið þar sem er markaður fyrir jólavörur og gjafir sem handverksfólk hefur búið til. Með hækkandi sól er efnt til Vetrarhátíðar í Reykjavík í febrúar.

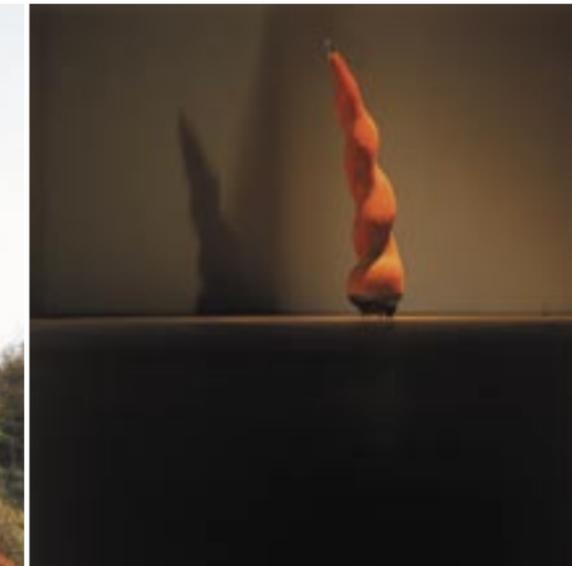

Events

A great deal is constantly happening, so everyone should find plenty to suit themselves, any time of the year, though only a few of the numerous events can be mentioned here. Near the end of April, on the holiday when Icelanders welcome summer, an exhibition is held encouraging people to acquaint themselves with the local tourist recreation possibilities. May is enlivened by the Reykjavík Arts Festival, while the beginning of June brings the Festival of the Sea, and August is the month for the Cultural Night in Reykjavík. During the Reykjavík Arts Festival, domestic artists appear along with foreign visitors from every corner of the globe. The citizens of Hafnarfjörður sponsor a Bright Days Arts Festival in June, Seltjarnarnes also celebrates days of culture and the arts during the long days of that month, and Kópavogur presents its Kópavogur Celebration in May. In Advent, an enjoyable visit is to the Christmas Village, to shop at the craft market for Christmas goods and gifts. The steadily higher sun in February signals the Reykjavík Winter Lights Festival.

Menning og söfn

Ferðamenn undrast oft hið mikla framboð á menningarviðburðum. Það er mikið að gerast, mikil gerjun. Í Reykjavík er Óperan og þar spilar Sinfóníuhljómsveitin. Klassískir tónleikar eru í hverri viku. Djassistar koma fram og aðdáendur popps og rokks þurfa ekki að örvænta því á hverju ári eru haldnir tónleikar sem laða áhugafólk um slíka tónlist víða að. Á Músiktilraunum eru hljómsveitum unglínganna gefin tækifæri en þekktari hljómsveitir koma fram á Iceland Airwaves í október. Í Menningarmiðstöð Kópavogs er sérbyggður tónleikasalur. Atvinnuleikhúsin og fjöldi áhugaleikara setja leikrit á svið á hverju ári. Og ekki má gleyma söfnunum. Í Mosfellsdal er safn Nóbelskaldsins. Önnur söfn eru listasöfn, byggðasöfn, lækningaminjasafn, véla- og tækjasöfn og Árbæjarsafn - að ögleymdum fjölmörgum bóka- og upplýsingasöfnum.

Culture and Museums

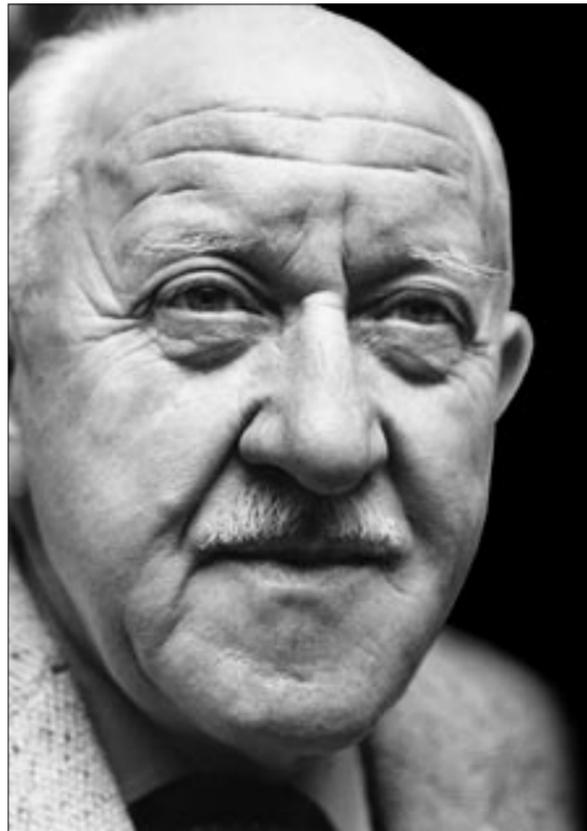

Tourists are often surprised by the wide selection of cultural events; new things are happening all the time. Iceland's opera is in Reykjavík, which is also home to the Iceland Symphony Orchestra. Not only do classical music concerts occur every week and jazz players make frequent appearances, but pop and rock lovers have no reason for disillusionment, since concerts are offered each year which bring those interested in such music from far away. In the Music Experiments, youth bands receive their chance, whereas more famous bands appear during Iceland Airwaves in October. The Cultural Centre of Kópavogur has a specially constructed music hall, while the two professional theatres and several amateur companies present drama performances annually. Nor are the museums to be forgotten: Mosfellsdalur contains the House of Halldór Laxness, while there are also art museums, local heritage museums, a museum showing medical instruments, museums for machinery and equipment, and, in the open air, the Reykjavík Museum at Árbær. The widespread libraries and information services are worth a visit too.

Forn húsakynni eru til sýnis á Hofstöðum, þar er margmiðlunarsýning um líf landnámsmanna. Nú er verið að grafa upp landnámskála í miðri höfuðborginni sem opnaður verður árið 2006. Um sögu þjóðarinnar má fræðast á ýmsum söfnum. Á Þjóðminjasafninu eru munir úr 1100 ára sögu þjóðarinnar. Sögusafninu í Perlunni gleymir enginn sem þangað kemur. Þar má sjá forna kappu sem lifandi væru. Byggingin sjálf er sérstæð því hún er byggð utan um vatnstanka Orkuveitu Reykjavíkur. Á efstu hæðinni, sem snýst, er veitingastaður með útsýni í allar áttir. Þjóðmenningarhúsið þykir eitt fegursta hús landsins. Þar er brugðið upp sýningum úr sögu þjóðarinnar. Þegar sól er hæst á lofti koma afkomendur víkinganna á Norðurlöndum saman á mikilli víkingahátíð í Hafnarfirði og minnst forfedranna með vopnaskaki. Öll eru vopnin þó meinlausar eftirlíkingar og hinir fjölmörgu áhorfendur þurfa ekkert að óttast.

Ancient Culture ▶

The ancient premises at Hofstaðir can now be viewed with a multi-media exhibition on the life of the settlers. While the original settlement ruins in the Reykjavík city centre are being excavated for their opening in 2006. A number of museums provide enlightenment on Icelandic history. Relics from this 1100-year period are displayed at the National Museum. In the Pearl and its Saga Museum, ancient heroes appear in seemingly living likenesses, unforgettable to anyone attending. Moreover, the building itself is unique, constructed over some warm-water storage tanks of the area's geothermal utility and containing a revolving restaurant on the uppermost floor, which allows views in all directions. The Icelandic Culture House, which presents exhibits on the nation's history, is considered one of the country's most beautiful buildings. In mid-summer, Nordic descendants of the Vikings gather at the grand Viking Festival in Hafnarfjörður to commemorate their ancestors through armed combat. Since every weapon is a harmless replica, spectators have nothing to fear.

HAFNARFJÖRÐUR

If you are looking for an enjoyable place to visit with unique character, you need look no further. Hafnarfjörður nestles comfortably among the lava, and the splendour of the great outdoors is everywhere.

According to local seer Erla Stefánsdóttir, Hafnarfjörður has Iceland's largest community of elves. The Tourist Info even provides a map of these settlements and guided tours are available.

Visual arts, music and history are among Hafnarfjörður's many attractions and historical culture from the time of Viking settlement can be literally tasted at Viking banquets in the Fjörkráin restaurant.

In June we celebrate summer and the sun's longest passage over the horizon by holding Bright Days – our festival of arts and culture – and during Advent every – one visits the Hafnarfjörður Christmas Village.

Fjöllin veita tækifæri til útivistar og náttúruskoðunar. Náttúran er við hvert fótímal. Á vetrum eru Bláfjöll og Skálafell vinsælustu staðirnir meðal skíða- og snjóbrettafólks en á sumrin laða kyrrðin og seiðandi segull fjallanna fólk á öllum aldri í göngutúra upp á Esju eða um Hengilssvæðið þar sem vatnsgufur stíga til himins og bera vitni um hita og orku. Í Henglinum má líka finna heita á þar sem er ógleymanlegt að baða sig úti í náttúrunni. Þeir sem kjósa meiri mannfjölda geta baðað sig í Nauthólsvík. Mosfellsdalur, Álftanes og Seltjarnarnes eru upplagðir staðir til fuglaskoðunar og útivistar. Í Hafnarfirði eru Hvaleyrarvatn og Ástjörn vinsæl útivistarsvæði. Í vatninu er veiðivon og gönguleiðir allt í kring en við tjörnina er fjölskrúðugt fuglalíf. Í Vífilstaðavatni er veiðivon. Á miðjum Reykjanesskaga er Krýsuvík þar sem leirhverir í skærum litum vella sinn söng með undarlegri lykt.

Nature: just a step away ▶

The mountains provide opportunities for outdoor recreation and observation; everywhere, nature is close at hand. In the winter, Bláfjöll and Skálafell are the most popular spots for skiers and snow boarders. During summer, people of every age are drawn to walks onto the majestic Esja or in the environs of Hengill. The Hengill area is marked by clouds of steam, evidencing heat and energy; there is even a warm river for unforgettable outdoor bathing. If you want to be among more people, try the warm sea waters at Nauthólsvík. For bird watching and experiencing nature, Mosfellsdalur, Álftanes and Seltjarnarnes are perfect locations. Hafnarfjörður has the popular ponds of Ástjörn, with its assortment of birds, and Hvaleyrarvatn, a frequent destination of anglers and walkers. There's good fishing in Vífilstaðavatn lake. In the middle of the Reykjanes peninsula lies Krýsuvík, where brightly-coloured mud pools murmur and boil with a strange odour.
